

We Want To Hear From You

On Friday, January 25, 2002, the Rocky Mountain Arsenal Committee published a draft report titled "Summary and Evaluation of Potential Ordnance/Explosive and Recovered Chemical Warfare Materiel Hazards at Rocky Mountain Arsenal". This report was authored by technical experts from the U.S. Army, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Shell Oil Company, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment and the Tri-County Health Department. The report details findings from an extensive 12-month evaluation of the Arsenal's twenty-seven square miles that was initiated after the discovery of Sarin bomblets at the site in 2000.

The U.S. Army and all parties involved at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal are committed to keeping its employees and neighbors informed and involved in the site's cleanup and transition to a national wildlife refuge. As part of this commitment, all interested community members are encouraged to participate in the review of this report and submit formal comments and questions in writing. The "Summary and Evaluation" report is currently available for public review at the following locations:
